In March, 1880, Wm. Gorrecht and wife were summoned before the court, on a habeas corupus, which was issued at the instance of Mrs. Clara R. Dunn (nee Fri ht) to show cause why they held the custody of Annie Fricht, a natural child of Mrs. Dunn. At that time Mr. Gorrecht proved that he had taken charge of the child at the mother's request when she was two years old : she had kept and cared for her for four years. It was also shown that previous to her marriage with Thos. E. Dunn, who is captain of a coast schooner. threatened to horse whip him; he told and resides in Portsville, Sussex county, Delaware, Mrs. Dunn had not led a life him if he did he would get square with him. The case was dismissed at deof the peace. David Jones, also colored, was "afeered" of Cato because he threat ened to "cripple" him. The defense was that Jones was in the habit of going to the house of Cato for the purpose of get. ting a child which the court had one of the custody of the child, by the house of Cato for the purpose of get. ting a child which the court had given to custody of Mr. and Mrs. Gorrecht, as they thought from the testimony heard that it was the best place for her, and as the little girl preferred to remain there.

The Elliott Brothers have five ice-houses. bree of them near Grant s and Reigart's landing, in which they have they left the court house together. The are capable of holding about 3,000 tons more. Should the season continue favorable it is their intention to fill their houses Com'th vs. Lewis Widdenhouer, surety and "stack" ice for early use, at Shenk's, below Graeff's landing. John Hartman's new ice-houses, in the reservoir grounds have a capacity of 4,000 tons. One of them is filled to the top and the other is more than one-third full. Their ice is cut from the city reservoirs and is all "pure blue" ice, from 6 to 12 inches in thickness. There is but little doubt that the partly filled house will be entirely tilled within a very brief period. Peter B. Fordney's new ice house at Reigart's Landing is said to have a capacity of 3,500 tons and is filled to the roof with clear blue ice cut from the Con-
